

Created in 2004 and acquired by Carte Blanche in 2008, Violent Veg features a combination of word-play and risqué humour delivered by a cast of anarchic vegetables. The hilarious Violent Veg is now a household staple of the humour market.

A brand that truly stands the test of time with a unique visual identity and humour which covers a broad spectrum of surreal, rude, subtle and sometimes just plain daft, Violent Veg has a broad appeal that works equally well for men and women.

The carrot got past the peeler...

...but grater danger lay just around the corner

They found they'd not only been separated at birth but, amazingly...

...both were called Arthur Cucumber

A Dad as brilliant as you...

...deserves a pat on the head

You okay?

Just a bit battered!

I told you to put more sunblock on!

Mr Bramley gave the au pear a big goose for Christmas...

for licensing inquiries
THE B^RAND LIAISON

Marcy Silverman
914-282-2053

Marcy@TheBrandLiaison.com

Steven Heller
Tel: 855-843-5424

Cell: 561-302-7838

Steven@TheBrandLiaison.com

You always wanted to know what happened to your mother...

I think you've got some loose fillings

Blimey, her roots really need seeing to

Can't believe I pulled a corn star

My wife says I'm not myself anymore... she thinks I've lost my peasness

Epic birthday selfpea

GET OFF OUR PATCH!

Violent Veg